

MUSIC FOR INSTALLATIONS

Live at the museum of fine arts

Presenting the next finished artwork: Live at the Museum of Fine Arts: released on the DATABLOEM LABEL

and also available on

Bandcamp

! The album is the result of an edited version of the recording of the Live Set in the Museum of Fine Arts in Gent on 28th of November 2013.

With the very important help by Niek Cornil, Marie-Julie Dellaert, MSK Ghent, Freesound.org,

Ariovaldo A. Giaretta and Dennis from

I've been asked to set up soundscapes inspired on the theme of a forest. The live performance was in the half circled central aula of the Museum between beautiful sculptures and columns.

Niek Cornil was present to add live video during the performance. Niek reads perfectly the music and translates this into strong video. Have a look at the You Tube page of Music For Installations to see some snippets! Also present in the room was a person working with fragrances.

The soundscapes are inspired on the surroundings of a forest and the merging senses due to synesthesia. In the museum was on that moment also an exhibition of the painter Čiurlionis. He was known to have synesthesia. The result is based on self-created soundscapes and field recordings from personal and external sources. It is very important to mention FREESOUND which played an important role in the gathering of source material. This website is a huge effort to free recordings of all sort, ready to use as a sound or as a source of inspiration. Please check the list further down this article for full credits.

Niek and Mfi form since this performance a strong duo, bringing the music to life on different locations and occasions. The album consists of new tracks, specially created for this event, and of remixes of soundscapes from the Haukijärvi project . This album makes a fine addition for drone lovers and deep soundscapers!

Audio examples will be added on this page later on.
